City Council,

Today in partnership with Redtail Ridge, it's consultant Dewberry, and our consultant, JVA, we successfully submitted the CDPHE Application for the WWTP Expansion.

This is a critical milestone that has been in the works since 2019 and a significant step forward towards water and sewer service for the Redtail Ridge service area.

I want to acknowledge and appreciate this moment and recognize the technical work done by Dewberry, JVA, and internal City Staff in the last month to get this package submitted.

Thanks,

This email is directed to the Mayor, the City Manager and the City Council.

I have paid a visit to the Louisville Police Department because I believe my issue is a potential safety and security concern. For some reason, during this political season, there is no concern for the non-solicitation wishes of residents. Political information on bond issues, etc. is being taped to houses in the most prominent places, on the frames of the garage doors. Nothing says, to a potential thief or home invader, that nobody is home more than to have political material taped to the front of one's house. When I am away, I ask my neighbor to bring my garbage container from the street because I think that is an indicator of absence. The campaign material is as bad, or worse. I hope that the City can put an end to the practice. No one should have the right to deface private property.

Commuting Solutions

A More Connected Front Range Starts with 7A

The Commuting Solutions Board of Directors has approved a position in support of Ballot Measure 7A, which would expand passenger rail service along Colorado's Front Range.

Colorado's Front Range is growing, and our transportation network needs to grow with it. People travel across communities every day for work, school, appointments, recreation, and more. As our region continues to grow, we need to think about how our transportation system can keep up and give people more choices.

One option is regional passenger rail.

The Colorado Connector, or CoCo, is a proposed passenger rail service that would connect communities along the Front Range. The vision is to create a regional rail system that could eventually serve communities from Fort Collins to Pueblo.

In November, voters in the Front Range Passenger Rail District will decide on Ballot Measure 7A, which would provide funding for the Colorado Connector.

Commuting Solutions supports Ballot Measure 7A because we believe people should have more choices when it comes to getting where they need to go.

What Would 7A Fund?

A yes vote would create a 0.333% sales and use tax within the Front Range Passenger Rail District to fund CoCo. That is one third of a cent on a $1 purchase, or 33 cents on a $100 purchase. The tax would not apply to certain exempt purchases, including gasoline, food, residential electricity and gas, prescription drugs and medical supplies.

The funding would support the southern portion of the rail system between Denver and Pueblo, as well as increased service on the northern route, station improvements, local connections to stations and a new Amtrak station in Trinidad.

The northern portion of the route is expected to begin service in 2029, with the Denver to Pueblo portion proposed to begin service in 2032.

Once operating, the proposed system would provide daily passenger rail service between communities including Fort Collins, Loveland, Longmont, Boulder, Louisville, Broomfield, Westminster, Denver, Littleton, Sterling Ranch, Colorado Springs and Pueblo.

Why Does Regional Rail Matter?

Transportation challenges don’t stop at city or county lines. The Front Range is a connected region, with people traveling between communities every day for work, school, health care, recreation and other activities.

A regional rail system could complement existing transit and other transportation options while giving people another way to make longer trips along the Front Range.

At Commuting Solutions, we know that there isn’t one transportation solution that works for everyone. Some people will always need to drive, while others may be able to bike, walk, take transit, carpool or ride rail. A more connected transportation network gives people more options and more flexibility.

Ballot Measure 7A is one step toward building that kind of network for the Front Range.

Learn More and Make Your Voice Heard

Ballot Measure 7A will be on the November 2026 ballot for voters within the Front Range Passenger Rail District.

We encourage you to learn more about the measure, understand what it would fund and consider how expanded regional transportation could affect you and your community.

Visit the Commuting Solutions Rail Webpage to learn more.

I respect his right to do this, but could his time be better spent advocating for local issues? Support for local businesses come to mind or appearing at local schools?

Very disappointed, I did place it in my recycle bin.

Dear Louisville City Council-

I am a Louisville resident of 29 years and would like to make a few comments on the City Council agenda items at this evening's Council meeting.

1) Regarding the 'Boards and Commissions Proposed Role Revisions – Oct. 2026'': Page 1 states that "This City Department has three boards: Open Space Advisory Board (OSAB), Parks and Public Landscaping Advisory Board (PPLAB), and Recreation Advisory Board (RAB). One is a Charter required board (OSAB) and two have quasi-judicial roles (OSAB, PPLAB). These boards often overlap in review areas and there could be both efficiencies and benefits from merging and creating a space where differing views can work through items together and provide consistent recommendations."

- My comments are that these Advisory Boards overlap in very few review areas since they have very different purposes and agendas. For example, it would be highly problematic to combine OSAB with any other board given their distinct open space mission. I would argue that merging the Boards would create inefficiencies and confusion and introduce inefficient use of the Board's time. They all work well independently as they stand now.

2) Comments on Page 10 of the 'Boards and Commissions Proposed Role Revisions – Oct. 2026''

From the 'Current Description' section, the following are missing:

- Reviews and recommends revisions to the open space master plan as necessary
- Provides comments to City Council and/or Planning Commission on development proposals affecting open space and trails

From the 'Charter/Code' section, the following are missing:

- Provide recommendations as to how open space within the city's boundaries and immediately adjacent thereto can best coexist with surrounding private land.
- Provide recommendations as to how the city can manage park and other land adjacent to open space lands in a manner that best promotes the continued integrity of open space.

From the ‘Proposed Description’ section, the following are missing:

- Option of moving open space land into more-protected as well as less-protected classifications
- OSAB is currrently responsible for all trails input, not just open space
- Bird City annual certification requirements

Thank you for your attention and consideration of my comments. I am happy to discuss further on any of these topics if needed. Thank you again.

Dear Mayor and City Council Members,

I have been following the recent discussions regarding our City's Boards and Commissions and cannot make the meeting tonight. I see that there is consideration of merging the RAB with PPLAB. I wanted to provide some feedback on the possibility of these boards merging.

I support exploring this combination, as the Parks and Recreation boards overlap in several areas. The benefits of combining these two boards could be improved collaboration, reduced duplication of topics on each board, and a more coordinated approach to addressing the City's parks, recreation, and community needs. If this is a direction you may be considering, I would recommend considering a board of nine members to ensure diverse representation from Parks, Recreation/Golf, and Senior Services.

I also want to reiterate that Senior Services are included on our yearly work plan with agenda items several times throughout the year. If these boards were combined, it would be important to ensure that Senior Services continues to receive the attention and representation it deserves, as it is a significant part of our Recreation Center and the services it provides to our community.

I understand that combining these two boards may not be the direction the Council chooses to pursue. I simply wanted to provide my perspective and input as you consider both options, whether to maintain the boards separately or explore the possibility of combining them.

We are extremely fortunate to have dedicated and knowledgeable residents serving on both boards who bring valuable insight, perspectives, and a strong commitment to our community. Regardless of the direction you choose, the continued involvement in the issues from each board is an asset to the City.

Dear Mayor Leh and Members of City Council:

With the deadline for comment approaching, Louisville Open Space Advocates (LOSA) is still not sure whether City Council is considering consolidating OSAB into the recreation focused boards or not. Rather than lose the opportunity to make our views known, LOSA is submitting this comment opposing the consolidation of OSAB into any other board or commission and takes no position on the merger of the various recreational bodies.

The reasons for our opposition include:

- 1. The fundamental goal of open space is to protect habitat, viewsheds,and wildlife. In contrast, the fundamental goal of parks and the golf course is to develop for human recreation.
- 2. Different specialized knowledge and expertise is needed for open space than for recreational programs. Only the best qualified people should make decisions on open space (and recreational programs).
- 3. One of the stated rationales of the consolidation under consideration is to make the recommendations consistent across this group of boards and commissions. OSAB, however, is bound by the City Charter and specified ordinances, they cannot apply other processes and standards to open space. In addition, unelected individuals should not be delegated the authority to resolve competing programmatic needs and values. This is the work of City Council which can be held accountable for their decisions at elections.
- 5. Given the heavy workload that OSAB already handles and that their meetings already routinely last 2-3 hours, it is unreasonable to ask volunteers to commit even more time. It would also be unreasonable for OSAB to shorten the amount of time they spend discussing complex and important issues in order to handle issues currently handled by other boards and commissions.
- 6. A consolidation would create a board with so much breadth of scope that it would not be able to serve the needs of City Council, residents, and the City. It is hard to imagine OSAB could meet their duties under the city charter if the time devoted to their issues was shortened.
- 7. Consolidation of OSAB with other boards and commissions is inconsistent with the spirit of the City Charter. See section 10-1.

Thank you for reading this comment letter.

EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR MESSAGE

Hello, Commuting Solutions members and supporters!

There's a lot happening in transportation across our region right now, and it's exciting to see projects moving forward that will give people more ways to get where they need to go. From bus service improvements to new biking connections, these efforts remind us how important it is to keep working together to build a transportation network that serves our communities.

One of the biggest conversations right now is Ballot Measure 7A and the future of the Colorado Connector (CoCo) passenger rail project. The Commuting Solutions Board of Directors has voted to support 7A because we see the value in expanding transportation choices along the Front Range. Passenger rail could help connect our communities, provide another option for getting around, and support investment near stations. We encourage everyone to learn more about the measure and what it could mean for our region.

Looking ahead, I hope you'll join us for our Annual Membership Meeting on December 9. It's a chance to catch up with fellow members and partners, celebrate the work happening across our region, and look ahead to the year to come. We'll also have a little holiday fun, and we'd love to see you there!

You'll also be receiving our annual membership survey soon. We really do want to hear from you! Your feedback helps us understand what matters most to our members and where we should focus our efforts in the coming year. Thank you in advance for taking a few minutes to share your thoughts.

I'm grateful for the many partners and supporters who make this work possible. There's always more to do, but I'm encouraged by what we can accomplish when we work together to keep our region connected.
I hope to see you in December!

With gratitude,

Commuting Solutions Supports Ballot Measure 7A

The Commuting Solutions Board of Directors has approved a position supporting Ballot Measure 7A, an important step toward advancing the Colorado Connector (CoCo) passenger rail project and expanding transportation options along Colorado's Front Range.

A Phased Approach to Passenger Rail

The Colorado Connector would be implemented in two phases. The first, called Starter Service, would provide three daily round trips between Denver Union Station (DUS) and Fort Collins, funded by RTD FasTracks and state funding at no additional cost to taxpayers.

The second phase would require passage of Ballot Measure 7A. It would fund construction of the DUS to Pueblo segment and increase service to up to 10 daily round trips along the full rail alignment by 2035.

Investing in Local Communities
CoCo would do more than connect communities by rail. If 7A passes, $1.15 billion would be reinvested in 13 station communities over 25 years to support station related projects, including bike and pedestrian infrastructure, microtransit, and other station area improvements.

For our region, this would mean $3.3 million each for Boulder and Longmont, an annual $2.75 million investment for Broomfield, an annual $2.2 million investment for Louisville, and an annual $3.3 million investment for Westminster to support local improvements and economic vitality.

The project could also stimulate commercial, residential, and retail development near stations, bringing new people to our communities to stay, shop, dine, and recreate.

Benefits Beyond the Commute
The Colorado Connector could also deliver significant environmental benefits. According to the Southwest Energy Efficiency Project (SWEEP), the project could reduce greenhouse gas emissions by approximately 124,500 metric tons per year by 2045 and eliminate nearly 233 million vehicle miles traveled annually, which is the equivalent of taking 29,000 gas powered cars off the road.

These potential reductions would come from replacing car trips with rail and encouraging more compact, mixed-use development around the 13 planned stations, making it easier for people to live, work, and access daily needs in walkable, transit-oriented communities.

Commuting Solutions supports fulfilling the long-standing rail commitment to our region through collaboration among the State of Colorado, RTD, and BNSF to stretch limited funding further.

INNOVATE

City of Longmont Breaks Ground on 1st & Main Transit Station

The City of Longmont and regional transportation partners have officially broken ground on the future 1st & Main Transit Station, marking a major milestone in the transformation of downtown Longmont and the region's transportation network.

The $70 million project, more than two decades in the making, will create a regional transportation hub featuring 10 bus bays, approximately 700 parking spaces, and bicycle storage. The station is designed to support future Bus Rapid Transit service between Longmont and Boulder, plans for Front Range Passenger Rail, and connections to the region's growing network of walking and biking infrastructure.

Beyond expanding transportation options, the project is part of a broader effort to revitalize Longmont's lower downtown corridor. The development includes the Coffman Street extension, new housing and commercial opportunities, and a planned Front Range Community College campus, creating stronger connections to jobs, education, and other destinations.

With construction targeted for completion by the end of 2027, the 1st & Main Transit Station represents a significant investment in Longmont's future and a more connected Northern Colorado.

1st & Main Transit Station

$44 Million Colorado Clean Transit Enterprise Awarded to RTD More Service Coming to Flatiron Flyer

The Regional Transportation District (RTD) has been awarded $44 million from the Colorado Clean Transit Enterprise to expand transit service across the Denver metro area, including more frequent Flatiron Flyer service between Denver and Boulder.

The funding will support a range of improvements, including shorter wait times, extended service hours, and new or expanded routes. It will also support service between Boulder and Denver International Airport, improving connections to regional destinations.

For commuters along the US 36 corridor, increased Flatiron Flyer frequency is a key part of restoring higher levels of service on this important regional route. The improvements aim to make transit a more convenient option for getting to work, school, appointments, and other destinations.

RTD estimates the grant-funded improvements could generate nearly 3.8 million additional transit rides in 2027, with the potential to grow to more than 6.5 million additional rides annually as the service improvements mature.

The investment supports broader state goals of expanding transportation choices, connecting people to jobs and services, reducing traffic congestion, and improving air quality.

CO 119: A New Connection Between Boulder and Longmont

A safer, more connected commute between Boulder and Longmont is getting closer to reality! The CO 119 Safety, Mobility and Bikeway Project is continuing to take shape along Diagonal Highway, with construction expected to wrap up in spring 2027.

The $165 million project, led by CDOT, RTD, and Boulder County, is designed to improve safety and mobility along the corridor between Foothills Parkway in Boulder and Hover Street in Longmont. Planned improvements will enhance travel for people driving, expand transit infrastructure to support more reliable bus service, and create a bikeway connecting the two communities.

With traffic along the corridor expected to increase by 25% by 2040, these investments will help expand transportation choices and strengthen connections between the two communities.

Construction is still underway, so the new bikeway is not yet ready for use. Stay tuned as this exciting regional connection moves closer to completion!

Please Weigh In: RTD January Proposed Service Change

RTD is proposing more frequent service on the AB routes connecting Boulder with Denver International Airport. If approved, these January 2027 service changes would improve connections along the US 36 corridor.

The proposal includes more frequent AB1 service to Downtown Boulder Station, with two trips per hour for much of the weekday and hourly service on weekends. AB2 would also provide hourly service to and from Boulder Junction. Together, these changes would mean buses serving Table Mesa Station every 20 minutes for much of the weekday and every 30 minutes on weekends.

Help make the case for more transit options along US 36! RTD is inviting the public to weigh in on the proposed changes, and we encourage you to share your support for increased AB service.

Upcoming virtual public meetings:

- Tuesday, October 27, at noon: Ask a Service Planner
- Tuesday, October 27, at 5:30 p.m.: Public Meeting
- Wednesday, October 28, at noon: Ask a Service Planner
- Wednesday, October 28, at 5:30 p.m.: Public Meeting

Public feedback will be accepted through October 29, 2026. You can review the proposal and submit comments through RTD's online service change dashboard or Online Service Planning and Development form.

Employers Step up to the Commute Challenge of Go-Tober

October is Go-Tober! Each year, this regional challenge encourages commuters to try alternatives to driving alone, whether that means biking, walking, taking transit, carpooling, vanpooling, or teleworking.

This year, six employers in Commuting Solutions' service area are participating in the challenge: Sister Carmen Community Center, Wavelynx, City of Lafayette, Otak, Key Equipment Finance, and City and County of Broomfield. We're excited to recognize these employers for encouraging their employees to explore different ways to get to work.

Every trip counts! By trying a new way to commute, participants can help reduce traffic congestion, improve air quality, and discover options that work for their daily routines.

A big thank-you to all six participating employers and everyone taking part in this year's challenge and helping make sustainable transportation a part of the conversation across our region.

Regional E-Bike Share Arrives in Longmont & Superior. Westminster is Coming Soon.

Superior is the latest community to join the region's growing e-bike share network! The new BCycle program gives residents and visitors another way to get around town, reach local destinations, and connect with other transportation options.

Whether commuting to work, running errands, or connecting to transit, e-bikes make it easier to get around Superior without relying on a car for every trip.

The regional network also includes Boulder and Longmont, with Westminster expected to launch its e-bike share program later this fall. More details about Westminster's launch are coming soon!

Please stop the water department from removing all the vegetation growing around Harper Lake. This is called the Leon Wurl wildlife preserve but all the habitat is hacked down regularly. In past years I have contacted the water department about this on going removal and their reasons have little standing or reason. It's just a habit on their part as far as I can tell. Leave habitat for wildlife! Surely we can share a bit of our resources with the animals whose habitat we are dismantling with our cities and agriculture. To say nothing of the fact that it is more pleasant and emotionally calming for visitors to the lake to have trees and shrubs-not just bare rocks and ground.

Hello
I am writing to request that Louisville create a sidewalk or bike path to connect the Aquarius Trailhead to the Colorado Technology Center (CTC).

The CTC contains a number of local businesses -- Johns Table and Spot Climbing Gym being two excellent destinations -- that are currently not accessible from the Coal Creek Trail since the Aquarius Trailhead puts the walker/biker on Empire Road, a highway with no sidewalk, no crossings and no bike lanes.

Currently the safest option is to manage to cross the road and then walk across the (significant) dirt into the parking lot directly opposite the exit. Ideally there would be some combination of sidewalk and/or pedestrian crossing and/or bike lane.

This problem is exacerbated by a slight rise in Empire Road at the Aquarius Trailhead exit which means if you are trying to cross the road to then walk/bike down Empire to get to the CTC, you're basically invisible to oncoming traffic.

Thanks muchly!

Peter Clark

Louisville elected officials and staff,

More than 20 statewide and local housing, transportation, environmental, and community organizations have signed the attached letter urging local governments to move forward on implementing the Transit-Oriented Communities law (HB24-1313), including the December 31, 2026 deadline for final Housing Opportunity Goal Reports.

The three-page letter summarizes what the law requires, the state funding available to communities that comply, and the housing affordability, transportation, and climate benefits of allowing more homes near transit.

We recognize the work local governments are doing, and we thank you for your leadership in addressing your community's housing needs. Please reach out with any questions.

Thanks,
Matt

Subject: Implementation of Transit-Oriented Communities (HB24-1313)

Local Elected Officials and Staff,

We, the undersigned organizations, urge you to move forward toward compliance with Transit-Oriented Communities (HB24-1313), including the December 31, 2026 deadline for local governments to submit their Housing Opportunity Goal reports to the Department of Local Affairs (DOLA). This law offers a critical opportunity for local governments to tackle Colorado's housing affordability crisis. The law comes with substantial incentives and communities that meet the baseline requirements gain access to over $140 million in state infrastructure grants and affordable housing tax credits as well as prioritization for over $227 million in state discretionary grants.

Local governments are already working hard to address their communities' housing needs. We see state land-use efforts as a complement to that work, encouraging growth around our transit system with the support of state funding.

Colorado is 106,000 homes short of a stable market. With 1.7 million more people projected by 2050 - nearly 90% along the Front Range - the need for action is urgent. In the Denver metro area alone, a 50,000-unit shortfall has driven a 71% rise in housing prices over the last 10 years, deepening financial strain, displacement, evictions, and homelessness. Over half of Colorado renters are burdened by unaffordable housing costs. In addition, transportation is the second largest expense for Colorado households behind housing. Coloradans living in traditional urban neighborhoods and downtowns drive half as much as those living in suburban areas and spend half as much on transportation.

Failing to act will make it harder for Coloradans - including our children, grandchildren, and essential workers like nurses, teachers, and firefighters - to continue living here.

What's required of jurisdictions by the end of this year?

HB24-1313 required local governments to submit a Preliminary TOC assessment report to the Department of Local Affairs (DOLA) by June 30, 2025, and we applaud the 22 communities that met that deadline. The next important milestone is December 31, 2026, by which local governments must submit a Final Housing Opportunity Goal Report with evidence that zoning capacity in locally-designated Transit Centers meets the jurisdiction's goal, a map of those Transit Centers, and a description of affordable housing strategies, displacement mitigation strategies, and community engagement efforts. Where applicable, communities can submit a notice of insufficient water supply.

Jurisdictions then have until the end of 2027 to officially designate their Transit Centers to be fully compliant. We commend the 7 communities that have already submitted their final Housing Opportunity Goal report ahead of the December 31st deadline, four of which were subsequently awarded state infrastructure grants.

Local governments that comply with HB24-1313 gain access to:

- $120 million in Transit-Oriented Communities (TOC) Affordable Housing Tax Credits, allocated in 2028 and 2029 under HB24-1434.
- $22 million in TOC Infrastructure Grants through 2027, created by HB24-1313. The first round of $13.3 million in funding was awarded in February 2026 to jurisdictions complying with the law:
    - Fort Collins Switchgrass Crossing Infrastructure - $792,434
    - Longmont Downtown Transit Hub at 1st & Main - $4,000,000
    - Denver Broadway Station Pedestrian Bridge Project - $4,000,000
    - Wheat Ridge Ridge Road Infrastructure Project - $4,535,396
- $227 million in prioritized state grants under the Strategic Growth Executive Order's compliance framework (see the full list in the appendix here).

HB24-1313 will help to address Colorado's housing, transportation, and climate challenges by:

- Allowing more housing near transit: HB24-1313 requires local governments to allow a minimum amount of residential zoning capacity near frequent transit stops and stations, but lets local governments decide how to meet those goals, ensuring that zoning fits local context and infrastructure capacity. Providing ample zoning capacity near transit has been shown to:
    - Lowering housing costs. Multifamily and attached homes, the types of housing encouraged by the law, typically cost roughly 40-50% less than detached single-family homes in the Denver metro area, helping provide the affordable and attainable housing Coloradans need.
    - Promote sustainable, climate-friendly growth. A recent state report found that allowing more attached and multifamily housing in existing communities as opposed to exurban sprawl would cut GHG emissions from transportation by 15% and from buildings by 31% from new development. Multifamily homes also use 63–86% less water than single-unit detached homes.
    - Boost transit ridership. Over 90% of RTD's rail stations and 84% of frequent bus corridor areas fall below the density levels needed to support frequent transit service, with many transit areas surrounded by empty parking lots, warehouses, and underutilized strip malls. Encouraging more housing near transit addresses this gap.

- Streamlined approval. In the locally-designated Transit Centers, communities must offer an administrative review process for housing projects on parcels of five acres or less, using objective standards rather than discretionary review. Research finds that administrative approval speeds development approvals by 28% on average. In September, Fort Collins voted to allow "housing by right" to streamline the permitting process in an effort to add more homes at lower cost.
- Increasing affordability and addressing displacement: Recognizing the need for regulated affordable housing and the potential for large developments to displace residents and businesses, the law required DOLA to identify strategies and resources for improving affordability and mitigating displacement. Local governments must choose and implement at least three affordable housing strategies along with at least two displacement mitigation strategies.

HB24-1313 is essential for addressing Colorado's housing affordability crisis and promoting sustainable growth, and we urge you to move toward compliance. As you determine how best to adapt the law to your community, we are available as a resource for meetings and briefings. We appreciate your leadership in building a more affordable, sustainable, and livable Colorado.

Dear Mayor Leh and Council Members--

I appreciate the support of Council, City Manager Langley, and key City staff for including the $100,000 contract for the Boulder Watershed Collective to develop and implement the next phase of the Fire Smart Louisville initiative on the 10/20 Consent Agenda. We've had a successful first 9 months, and have exceeded my initial goal to engage with 2-4 neighborhoods and hold 2 or more events. My main objective was to demonstrate what is possible and to start to build strong local partnerships for tangible wildfire risk reduction. It's time to let the professionals take it from here!

Our last event of the year will be in Ward 3, in partnership with the Coal Creek Ranch HOA and Wildfire Partners on Saturday, 10/24, 11 am-3 pm at the CCR Clubhouse on Spyglass Circle. Wildfire Partners is providing two large roll off dumpsters (with maybe 2 more if the first 2 fill fast) for a defensible space clean up event. See the attached flyer for more info. City Parks, OS, and Golf Course staff will be present, along with Fire Marshall Jennifer Henderson. You're all welcome to participate or even volunteer!

Thanks in advance for your support of the Consent item.

Dear Community Leaders,

With the November 3 General Election well underway, we have several opportunities coming up to learn more about the election process, hear from the people who participate in it, and see it firsthand.

Additionally, we've laid out action steps you can consider taking to help support our elections office.

Erie Community Center – Monday, October 19, 6-7:15 p.m.– Celebrating Election Heroes

You'll hear from Boulder and Weld County residents (election judges and political party chairs) about what it's like to work and observe an election. I will be moderating the conversation along with Weld County Clerk Carly Koppes. Free and open to the public; light appetizers provided.

Please invite anyone in the community. It is especially important for people who have doubts about our election process to hear from community members on what it is like behind the scenes.

NEWLY ADDED – Election Champion Event – Tuesday, October 27 at Relish Food Hall

Our Election Champion events have been very popular and due to high demand, we have just added another event on October 27 in Louisville. This is a "201" level look at elections and the role of the federal government, and a brief history of what's been happening over the past several years with federal engagement. For those of you who couldn't attend a previous event, or if you know others who might be interested, please encourage them to attend this event. It will be a combo Vote Early Day celebration + workshop. Please encourage friends to attend. Details here.

Then, here are 5 simple ways to help our elections:

1. See the election process firsthand and invite 5 others!
    - Sign up for a Ballot Processing Center Tour to see how ballots are received, verified, and counted. Aim to invite 5 (or more!) friends, neighbors, or family members to join you, or encourage them to sign up for their own tour.

2. Help distribute election information in your community.
    - Come to the Erie event or stop by our office (1750 33rd St. in Boulder) to get some non-partisan flyers. Help us spread the word by asking to leave flyers at places you frequent, like coffee shops, gyms, yoga studios, or other community gathering spots.

3. Follow us on social and share our contact to others to help them get accurate election information.
   Instagram: @BoulderCountyElections
   YouTube: @BoulderCountyClerk
   Facebook: @BoulderCountyClerk
   X: @BoCoClerk

4. Vote early!
    - Returning your ballot early gives you more time to resolve any signature issues and allows our staff to process ballots ahead of Election Day, helping us provide more complete election-night results. Please encourage your friends to vote early, too! Voting early is the best way to show support for your local elections office.

4. Track your ballot
    - Sign up for Ballot Trax at BoCo.org/BallotTrax to receive text or email notifications when your ballot is mailed to you, received by our office, and processed.

5. Check in with friends and family in other states.
    - Reach out to a few people you know outside of Colorado and encourage them to check their voter registration, voting options, and deadlines. Vote.gov is a helpful site that will get folks to the right place.

Please reach out to us directly if you need anything to support voters this election. My best,

Molly Fitzpatrick

Heads up, Louisville businesses! Parking enforcement will resume in late October.

Over the past year, businesses and residents may have noticed limited enforcement of parking violations in downtown Louisville. This was due to a vacancy in the City's code enforcement position.

This week, the City welcomed Ben Kanner, our new Code Enforcement Officer with the Louisville Police Department. With this position now filled, the City will begin enforcing parking regulations again in late October. As a reminder, parking violations and penalties are outlined in Title 10 of the Louisville Municipal Code.

We recommend reminding your staff and patrons to respect posted signage for parking in downtown Louisville. We've attached a flyer you can put up in your business reminding folks to check posted signage.

Here is a link to the parking map as a friendly reminder

Request to Remove Current Ballot Arguments

To: Louisville City Clerk and City Manager
Cc: Mayor, City Council and City Attorney
Subject: Request for immediate removal and review of ballot arguments for 2C, 2E, 2F and 2G

Dear City Clerk, City Manager and Council Members:

I am writing personally as a Louisville resident, 1435 Front St, to request immediate removal of the current arguments for and against Ballot Questions 2C, 2E, 2F and 2G from the City's election webpage pending review.

I have attached a fact-checking document explaining my concerns and linking to the sources. YES, I worked with AI to research and prepare both this email and the attached document. I am sharing them as my personal request, and I welcome corrections supported by the underlying records.

My concern is that the City gives supporting arguments more concrete explanation than opposing arguments, especially on 2C and 2E. The attachment also identifies a wording discrepancy on 2F and questions about the practical timing of 2G's required review process. It distinguishes verified facts from concerns and matters that still need confirmation.

C.R.S. § 1-45-117(1)(b)(I) permits publicly funded factual summaries presenting both sides without a conclusion or opinion favoring an outcome. I recognize that it does not prohibit all for-and-against summaries. Please have the City Attorney assess whether the current presentation satisfies the applicable state and local requirements.

I ask the City to take two steps:

1. Remove both the supporting and opposing argument sections for these four questions as soon as possible while the review takes place. Keep the ballot language and neutral factual information available. Please address this request without waiting for a replacement process to be developed.

2. Before publishing replacement arguments, offer residents and proponents on both sides an opportunity to submit suggested language under the same deadline, word limit and review criteria. Explain how submissions will be selected, fact-checked and attributed. Any replacement summary should still satisfy the applicable requirements for publicly funded election information.

With less than three weeks before Election Day, please respond within 24 hours to let me know whether the current arguments will be removed and when. This is a requested response time, not a statement of a statutory deadline.

Thank you for addressing this promptly.

Is there ANY PLACE that provides information on the ballot issues?

I have found the ballot language, but no information on:

1. What are the issues that are prompting these changes?
2. What are the effects (financial or operational, for example) if the ballot questions pass or don't pass?
3. Who supports and opposes these questions?
4. Why now?

Hello,

Touch and go operations began before 4am this Saturday morning. It is time for airport operations to be reviewed and people held accountable for running this airport so recklessly.

Applicant (City of Louisville) and the Koebel/ Redland Development Groups,

As a resident of Louisville and Local Conversation Leader with Strong Towns Louisville, I want to express our collective encouragement and excitement for inclusion of residential uses in the Centennial Valley.

The residential uses proposed in the GDP Amendment align with Louisville's new Comprehensive Plan. But we wonder if the type and pattern of development align with the Plan's vison of a post suburban sprawl Louisville? We believe the Plan's goal is a vision of more connected community, promoting human scale design, economic vitality, environmental sustainability, and social connections.

We feel the Centennial Valley sub-area offers unique opportunities to develop such walkable and connected neighborhoods in close proximity to open space, the RTD Park and Ride station, commercial, and retail areas. These existing amenities are important assets to inform the urban design vision. This area also presents a great opportunity to provide a mix of housing types known as "missing middle" that is currently lacking in today's market. The combination of connected walkable neighborhoods and various housing types is in short supply and in very high demand in Louisville and throughout our region.

Centennial Parkway is another unique asset and offers a rare opportunity. Unlike Denver and Boulder, Louisville does not have any parkways with residential uses facing this street type. A mature, gardened parkway offers a beautiful framework connecting the undeveloped lots to each other and the larger sub-area.

We understand the submitted "Conceptional Yield Studies" are not an actual proposed plan. However, the type of development pattern illustrated in the study raised our concern that your expectation and vison are misaligned with our community's vision. Our group has found it helpful to contrast the suburban pattern illustrated in your diagrams, with what urban designers refer to as the urban transect – such as this one highlighting "missing middle housing"

When looking at parcels C, F1, G3 and L2B We think Centennial Parkway would fall somewhere on the right side of the missing middle spectrum.
Applying the transect along Centennial Parkway this conceptual image may provide inspiration.

For the lots more imbedded in developed commercial areas we feel suburban retrofit strategies should be employed to create more sustainable, efficient, and livable communities.

Strong Towns Louisville is interested in hosting a community forum to explore and discuss the vision and possibilities for the Centennial Valley. We invite you to provide a presentation or participate in the forum. This can be scheduled at a time appropriate for you. Please contact me to coordinate.

I look forward to connecting again as you consider your plans and vision for the area.

Thank you for your consideration,

Peter Stewart

Hi Caleb,

Thanks for the extra information. We apologize again for the lengthy construction on that block. Here is the updated schedule I got from the contractor:

Monday 10/12 Move Equipment Start laterals on circle Drive
Tuesday 10/13 Tie in on Jefferson and Hutchinson
Wednesday 10/14 Tie in on grant and Spruce Set traffic control on S. Boulder Rd.
Thursday 10/15 Tie in on Circle Drive and S. Boulder Rd. Flow fill And start Prepping for asphalt
Friday 10/16 Cleanup and prep for asphalt
Monday 10/19 Pave grant and Jefferson

To clarify, "tie in" is when the new water main will be connected to the existing water main.

Work, including paving, should be all wrapped up by the end of day on Monday, October 19.

Kayla,

Thank you for the response. This block has been under construction since 8/31 and getting to resolution soon would be very appreciated.

The entire facade and front porch of every home on the block is covered in a film of dust and dirt. There is no reason to clean it until the project is actually completed, so they're at 6 weeks of serious inconvenience, including the parking fiasco that exists simultaneously.

Date: Thursday, October 8, 2026 2:43:40 PM

Dear Louisville City Council Members,

I am writing to express my concerns about the deteriorating condition of Davidson mesa and surrounding open space, particularly the growing impact of the prairie dog population. This is a valuable natural resource for our community, and I believe we need to take a more proactive approach to protecting, restoring, and maintaining it.

I recognize that prairie dogs are part of our local ecosystem and that managing their population can be challenging. However, the current conditions are becoming increasingly concerning. Without better management, we risk losing much of the natural vegetation and beauty that make this area so special.

I would encourage the City Council to consider several improvements:

1. More Frequent Prairie Dog Management and Relocation: Implement a more proactive prairie dog management plan, potentially including relocation efforts twice a year, where feasible, until the population is at a more sustainable level and the land has an opportunity to recover.

2. Reseeding and Restoration of the Mesa: Develop a plan to restore areas that have lost vegetation due to prairie dog activity. Reseeding with appropriate native grasses and plants would help bring this landscape back to life. I would personally be willing to volunteer my time to help spread seed if the city could provide the materials.

3. Reduced Mowing Along the Pathways: Consider reducing mowing along both sides of the walking paths to allow taller vegetation to grow, which may help discourage prairie dogs from crossing into additional areas and private property while also supporting the natural landscape.

4. Repair and Maintain Prairie Dog Fencing: Ensure that existing prairie dog fencing is properly installed, repaired where necessary, and regularly maintained to help manage their movement into areas we are trying to protect. The fencing between the open space and the private property is not keeping the prairie dogs off of private land It needs to be repaired The silt fence on 7222 Spring Drive has NOT kept the prairie dogs off their property the Prairie dogs are now threatening neighboring properties that do not back up to the open space

5. Improved Gravel Path Maintenance: Address the numerous holes and damaged sections of the gravel paths caused by prairie dog burrowing. These conditions create potential safety hazards for walkers, runners, and cyclists and should be repaired regularly.

I understand that these efforts require planning, resources, and funding. However, allowing this beautiful and valuable piece of open space to deteriorate into bare dirt should not be an acceptable outcome. Once the native vegetation and landscape are lost, restoring them becomes significantly more difficult and expensive.

Louisville has always taken pride in its open spaces, trails, and natural beauty. These are among the qualities that make our community such a wonderful place to live. I believe we have a responsibility to manage these areas thoughtfully so they can be enjoyed by current residents and future generations.

I would appreciate hearing what plans the city currently has in place to address these concerns and whether additional restoration and prairie dog management efforts are being considered. I would also encourage the Council to establish a more comprehensive, long-term management strategy for this area.

Thank you for your time, your service to our community, and your consideration of these concerns. I hope we can take meaningful steps toward preserving and restoring this important natural resource.

Sincerely,

Tamara

City Council Members,

I am requesting an immediate stop work, emergency moratorium on the reconstruction of intersection walks and curb ramps. Even after multiple concerns were raised regarding the efficacy of the new intersection designs at the beginning of summer the City has, and is continuing to construct these absurd dysfunctional curb ramps.

The new design does not work for basic walkability and creates obstacles for people with disabilities design. My daughter, who uses a wheelchair, is particularly impacted by the circuitous, multiple sloped obstacle ridden route she is now forced to use. The design is also dysfunctional and confusing for drivers, not knowing where the crosswalk is, where to expect people to cross, and where the stop line should be.

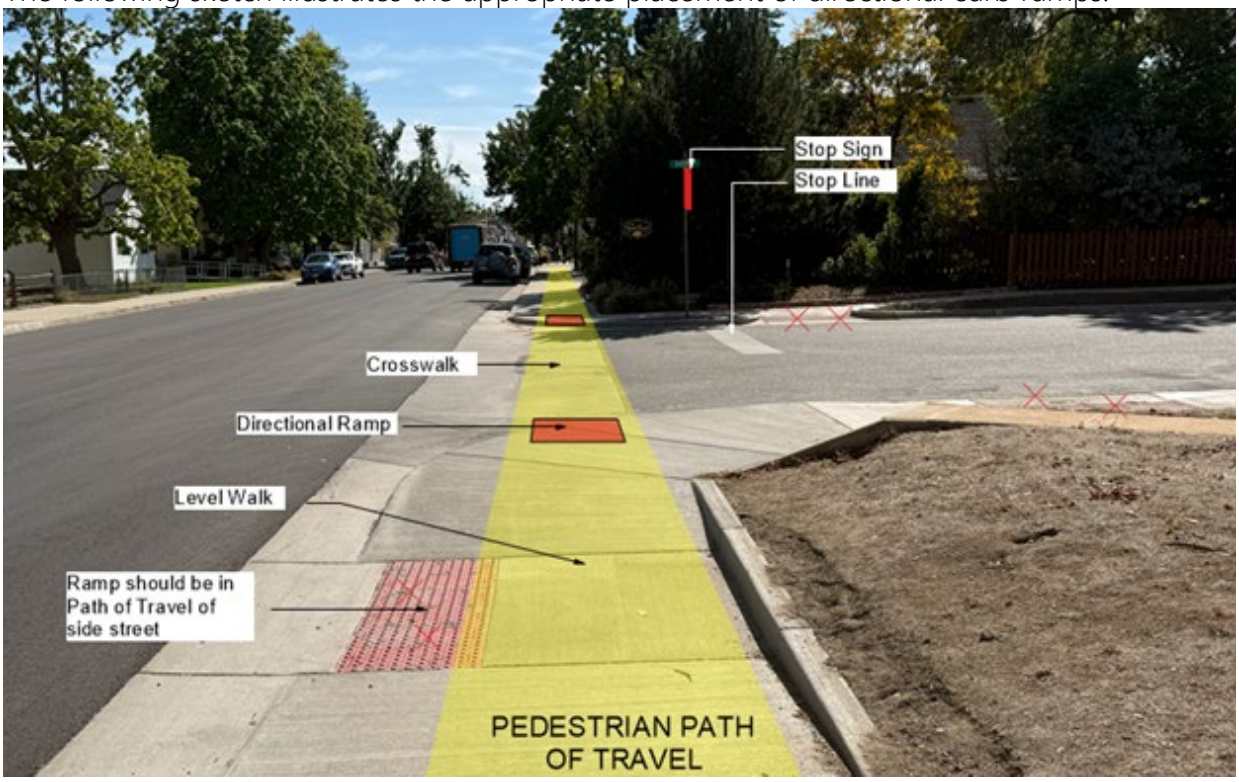

Directional ramps work well when placed on the "Pedestrian Path of Travel" as intended. When they are located outside of the Path of Travel they are completely disruptive and dysfunctional, placing additional burdens and risks to the walking and driving public, and especially to persons with disabilities who use wheelchairs or other mobility devices. This design segregates people with disabilities, forcing them to take the detour route. Because of this I believe this design does NOT meet the intent of the ADA, which is to remove barriers and provide equal access to people with disabilities.

It is incredibly discouraging that considerable taxpayer money was invested in this absurd design. Sadly, I must request the City remove all this recent work and replace it with curb ramps that are functionally directional and useful for their intended purpose.

This image of the newly installed ramps on Main Street illustrates the dysfunction (and absurdity) of this design:

The following sketch illustrates the appropriate placement of directional curb ramps:

This design decision altering our shared public space was imposed on the public without ANY public engagement. This runs counter to the city's aspirations for a transparent open government with public participation and engagement.

As a city we spend an extraordinary amount of time in public engagement and design review of private property. Why then would we not spend an equal amount of time, attention, and engagement when it comes to our collectively owned shared public space? We must elevate street design, and public design in general, to a much higher level. Afterall it is what the city is built upon and is our most important and valuable asset.

Thank you for your attention and consideration,

Council,

Please include this in the Oct 6 record. My records request on Polk/Dahlia came back today. A few things in it you should see, all quoted from city records.

Public Works recommended putting the advisory lanes back. The Aug 6 engineering memo to file supports "reinstatement under the 2026 Street Resurfacing Project" and says: "Removing an in-service treatment with a clean record would itself require engineering justification the record does not supply." On Aug 7 the Public Works Director wrote that staff was sticking with the existing design and guidance. I found no engineering analysis supporting removal.

The FHWA issue wasn't new in August. Staff wrote on Nov 9, 2023 that they did not submit to FHWA because FHWA wasn't taking submittals. Council approved the pilot that fall and voted 5-2 in February to keep it. On Aug 7, the City Manager's weekly update to council said Polk/Dahlia "is also scheduled to be restriped on Tuesday, August 11th, with advisory bike lanes."

Three days later it was reversed. On Aug 10 Polk/Dahlia was added to that day's ward meeting agenda. That evening a resident was told: "At this point, with Council support, we are going to take a step back and revisit the striping... Lane lines will not be striped back." The same evening another resident was told staff was "developing some other striping options for Council consideration."

That was eight weeks ago. No options have come to council. Polk/Dahlia isn't on the forecast through December. No new traffic counts have been made.

One more thing. On Sep 28 the City Manager wrote the lanes won't return unless FHWA approves them. On Oct 1 the City Engineer wrote that FHWA "stopped accepting applications." If both are true, the lanes are gone for good, and council never voted on that.

I'm not trying to relitigate whether advisory lanes are perfect. Your own staff's memo has a list of fixes, and I'd support most of them. I'm asking that the decision be made the way the first one was. In public.

Specifically:
1. Put Polk/Dahlia striping on a council agenda with a date.
2. In the meantime, stripe edge lines marking the parking lane. No centerline.
3. Get a current written answer from FHWA on a Request to Experiment. Staff's memo notes FHWA approved one for Teton County, Idaho in September 2023.

Fireside is at 845 W Dahlia. The road has had no lane lines since school started.

A New Direct Connection to DIA is Here

A new transit option is now available for getting to Denver International Airport.

RTD recently launched Route AL, its newest SkyRide service, with stops in Longmont, Niwot and Lafayette. The route provides direct service to DIA, giving residents in these communities a new option for airport travel.

On Sept. 28, Commuting Solutions joined the City of Lafayette at the Lafayette Park-n-Ride to celebrate the new service and welcome riders. We enjoyed meeting with the community over coffee and breakfast burritos and hearing the excitement about having a direct airport connection close to home.

Lafayette Mayor Saul Tapia Vega, Councilmember Adam Gianola, Councilmember Crystal Gallegos and Mayor Pro Tem Tim Barnes also joined us to celebrate the launch.

The launch was celebrated in Longmont as well, with local leaders and regional partners gathering at RTD's 8th Avenue and Coffman Street Park-n-Ride for a ribbon-cutting ceremony.

For people in Lafayette, Niwot, Longmont and surrounding communities, the AL offers a convenient new way to get to DIA without driving and parking at the airport. We're excited to see riders take advantage of this new service and make their next airport trip by transit.

City Council Members,

I am writing to express my concerns about the proposed concept plan for 0 Centennial Drive. Both of my children attend Active Louisville Kids at 1970 Centennial Drive, immediately north of the proposed development, so I have a particular interest in how the proposed development may impact the existing daycare and the families who use it.

The concept plan proposes approximately 41 units per acre, compared with the maximum 25 units per acre, and therefore requires a density waiver. The proposed development is located between two daycares (Active Louisville Kids and Colorado Children's Academy) serving children from approximately 6 weeks to 6 years old, and the only access to the new development appears to be through the existing shared access easements—approximately 20 feet on the north and 30 feet on the south—which are also used by the adjacent daycare properties.

The proposal includes 40 parking spaces, compared with the 27 required. While the additional parking will help reduce new residents relying on street parking, it will also increase vehicle traffic entering and exiting through these shared access points. Given that these access points are immediately adjacent to properties serving very young children, I believe the impacts of this additional traffic should be carefully considered.

I also encourage the City Council to consider appropriate buffers between the proposed development and the existing daycare properties, including setbacks, landscaping, screening, and separation from the daycare buildings and outdoor play areas. I respectfully ask that these site-specific access, traffic, and buffering considerations be carefully evaluated as part of the review of the requested density waiver.

Thank you for your consideration,

Mayor and Council Members,

While I am pleased to see the Council finally addressing the eastern gateway to the city, the current proposal to purchase or lease the caboose and boxcar is not, in my view, the right solution.

The Ramos family deserves recognition and thanks for preserving these relics from Louisville's railroad heritage, particularly given the time and expense involved in maintaining them.

A more practical and lasting approach would have been for the railroad cars to be donated or sold to the City, followed by a professionally planned restoration effort. Once restored, they could be relocated adjacent to the station-inspired Caranci Pavilion in Community Park, creating a more appropriate historical setting and a meaningful community asset. The City might also consider partnering with a private operator to incorporate a food truck-like or similar concession, helping activate the space while enhancing the visitor experience.

For these reasons, I urge you to vote against the current proposal.

If the City wishes to pursue a gateway sign or broader gateway enhancement project, I believe the 2020 Coal Cart marquee concept developed by Louisville resident Jean Morgan would provide a stronger and more effective starting point.

Thank you for your consideration.

City of Louisville

Re: Proposed Woodrow Estates Development – Stormwater Drainage and Grading Review

Dear City of Louisville Planning and Public Works Staff,

On behalf of the Cedarwood Homeowners Association, we are writing regarding the proposed Woodrow Estates development adjacent to the Cedarwood Park Townhomes, which we understand will include four new single-family homes. Cedarwood is not opposed to development of the property. Our purpose in writing is to ensure that existing stormwater conditions and potential impacts to neighboring properties are fully evaluated before construction proceeds.

Residents have observed that a substantial amount of stormwater already moves through this general area during significant rainfall events. Based on those observations, runoff from the surrounding area travels downhill through or toward the Cedarwood neighborhood and ultimately toward the Jefferson Street drainage area. Water from several surrounding areas appears to contribute to this drainage system, and the Cedarwood Park pocket/open area adjacent to the townhomes can accumulate a significant amount of water during heavy rainfall.

We also understand that residents near 422 Jefferson Street have raised concerns with the City regarding stormwater reaching their property and that the City and/or developer may be evaluating those concerns in connection with the Woodrow Estates project. Because Cedarwood borders the development area, we respectfully ask that the drainage conditions be evaluated as part of the larger interconnected drainage system rather than solely on a property-by-property basis.

Construction of the proposed homes will introduce roofs, driveways, other impervious surfaces, and changes to existing grading. We would therefore like to understand whether the proposed development or any drainage modifications could change the volume, direction, timing, or velocity of stormwater reaching the Cedarwood Park Townhomes, the adjacent pocket/open area, or other existing properties.

In particular, if drainage improvements are being considered to address water reaching the Jefferson Street property, Cedarwood would like confirmation that those improvements have been evaluated for potential downstream or adjacent impacts and will not simply redirect stormwater toward the Cedarwood townhomes or the City-owned pocket/open area.

We are not stating that the proposed development will create a drainage problem. We are asking the City to determine whether it could affect existing drainage conditions and to provide the engineering information showing how stormwater will be managed before and after development.

To assist the Association and neighboring homeowners in understanding the proposed drainage plan, we respectfully request clarification regarding the following:

Existing and proposed drainage patterns: Please identify the existing stormwater drainage pattern for the Woodrow Estates property and surrounding area and explain how that pattern will change after construction.

Stormwater discharge: Where will runoff from the new homes, roofs, driveways, lots, and associated improvements ultimately be directed and discharged?

Impacts to Cedarwood: Has the City or project engineer evaluated whether the development could increase the volume, velocity, frequency, or duration of stormwater reaching the Cedarwood Park Townhomes or the adjacent pocket/open area?

Grading and redirection: Will the proposed grading or drainage improvements change the direction of surface water toward Cedarwood or the City-owned open area adjacent to the townhomes?

Jefferson Street revisions: Has the drainage or grading plan been revised in response to concerns raised by residents near Jefferson Street? If so, please identify the material changes and explain where water that would otherwise have traveled toward that area will be directed.

Area-wide drainage evaluation: Has the City or project engineer evaluated the combined drainage conditions affecting the surrounding Lincoln Court, West Street, Hutchinson Street, Meade Court, Jefferson Street, Cedarwood, and Woodrow Estates areas as an interconnected system?

Capacity of the Cedarwood pocket/open area: Has the existing Cedarwood Park pocket/open area been evaluated for its current stormwater function and for any additional runoff that could reach it following development?

Plans and supporting materials: Please provide, or advise us how to obtain, the current grading and drainage plans, relevant stormwater engineering materials, and any publicly available revisions or correspondence concerning drainage changes associated with the Jefferson Street concerns.

Our goal is to ensure that the drainage solution considers the surrounding properties and the existing drainage system as a whole. There is already substantial water movement through this area during heavy rainfall, and the Cedarwood pocket/open area can hold a considerable amount of water. We would like reasonable assurance, supported by the applicable engineering review, that construction of the new homes will not unintentionally increase runoff to this area or redirect water toward existing homes.

We respectfully request that these concerns be considered during the planning, grading, drainage, and engineering review process so that any potential impacts can be identified and addressed before construction rather than after the homes are completed.

Thank you for your time and assistance. We would appreciate the opportunity to review the current drainage and grading information and any response the City can provide regarding these concerns.

Sincerely,

No drones are dropping off packages at homes in Colorado yet — but they're coming. In preparation, a north metro Denver city's leaders are aiming to enact the first Colorado regulations.

Subject: RMMA Flight Path Impacts on West Louisville
Date: Friday, October 2, 2026 5:08:41 PM

Dear Council Members,

I am writing regarding the significant increase in repetitive small-aircraft traffic over west Louisville following the FAA's June 2025 implementation of new structured arrival and departure routes at Rocky Mountain Metropolitan Airport.

I have lived at 556 W. Spruce Way for approximately 15 years. Aircraft noise has always been part of living near RMMA, but what we are experiencing now is fundamentally different. Single-engine aircraft repeatedly travel over or near my neighborhood beginning shortly after 6:00 a.m., often only a few minutes apart, seven days a week. I am routinely awakened around 6:15 a.m. and unable to go back to sleep.

Available flight-tracking data appear to confirm what residents are experiencing. An analysis before and after the June 2025 FAA change found that overflights in West Louisville increased from 4,168 to 13,103, a normalized increase of approximately 155%. That is hard to comprehend and beyond excessive.

This has become a serious quality-of-life issue for me. Over the past year, I have tried earplugs, replaced my windows, and attempted other sound-reduction measures without success. After approximately 15 years in my home, the continuing sleep disruption has become severe enough that I am seriously considering moving.

I have submitted detailed comments to the RMMA Part 150 Noise Compatibility Study and am also contacting the FAA directly. I am asking the City of Louisville to advocate more aggressively for residents affected by the new flight patterns.

I recognize that the FAA implemented structured routes for safety reasons, and I am not asking that safety be compromised or that aircraft simply be shifted from one neighborhood to another. But why must the same Louisville neighborhoods experience aircraft every few minutes beginning shortly after 6:00 a.m. every day of the week?

I would like to know specifically what the City is doing to address the concentration of aircraft traffic over Louisville following the June 2025 FAA changes. Is the City asking the FAA to evaluate route rotation or dispersal, time-of-day routing, higher altitudes where feasible, early-morning noise-abatement measures, or other alternatives that could provide some relief?
This seems particularly important now because RMMA is planning substantial additional aeronautical development. The time to address how aircraft traffic is distributed over surrounding residential communities is before the problem potentially becomes even more difficult to solve.

I understand that I live somewhat near a regional airport. I am not asking for an airport to be silent. I am asking the City to advocate for reasonable consideration of the residents living beneath these new flight patterns and for meaningful evaluation of alternatives.

I would appreciate a response explaining what actions the City is taking or plans to take regarding the June 2025 flight-path changes and their impact on Louisville residents.

Dear Mayor, Members of City Council and City Staff,

I am writing to urge the City Council to exercise its right to cancel the purchase contract for the property at 1155 Pine Street. Under contract since February 2026, this potential acquisition continues to represent an unneeded liability and an unnecessary use of public funds, particularly given the City's current budget constraints.

Over the eight months this property has been under contract, there has been no public discussion or strategic vision established for its use, nor is the property referenced in the Council's work plan, 2027 budget, or CIP. Public Works and Parks staff do not appear to have been consulted regarding ongoing maintenance needs and site liabilities. Restoration and maintenance costs alone will add hundreds of thousands of dollars. The liability for public access (and jumping off the roofs) is incalculable. Neighboring property owners have expressed consternation at the city's intrusion into potential property assemblage and resale values.

The city has paid a $150,000 deposit and $10,000 per month toward the $396,000 purchase price. Per the terms of the contract, the city is entitled to a refund of the deposit. The $70-$80,000 in lease payments and additional survey expenses are sunk costs which do not justify committing the city to the remaining purchase price, or taking on long-term operational and liability costs. In fact, these payments allow the city to make a reasonable request for the seller to resume property maintenance and/or to market the property at a lower price due to the reduced cost basis. Even if the city were to allow the seller to keep the deposit, it's a wise decision not to extend the contract. The unfunded Future 42 project was recently put on hold. Please take this unfunded project off the table entirely.

City Council should cancel the purchase agreement for 1155 Pine Street and focus its resources on pressing, budgeted needs. If council instead chooses to move forward with the purchase, please ensure it is delineated in the city budget with all ongoing maintenance, liability and restoration costs clearly defined.

Thank you for your reconsideration of this matter.

Good morning Mayor Leh,

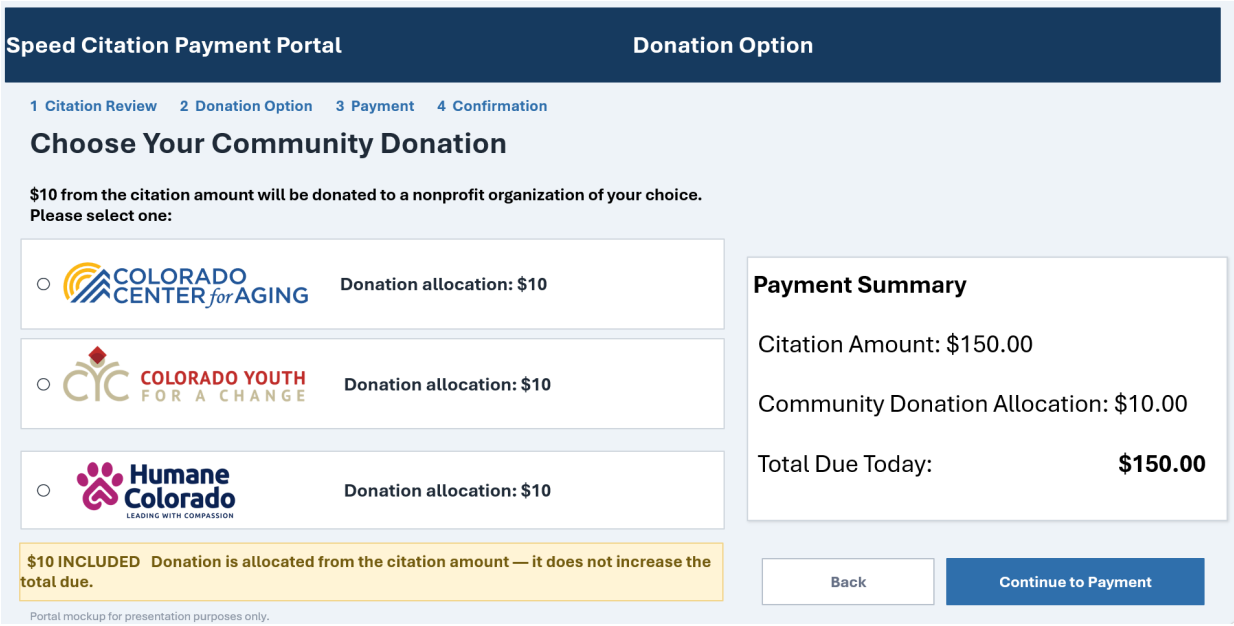

Hope all is well. Please let me know if there's an interest in implementing a school zone speed safety program in your city. I will be in town Tuesday, October 13 through Friday, October 16 and would greatly appreciate the opportunity to meet with you and provide a brief presentation.

Sitestream offers a turnkey solution at zero-cost, violator-funded solution that includes:

1. Traffic analysis and safety recommendations.
2. All required equipment and software for fixed, mobile, and handheld solutions.
3. Quality assurance and violation processing.
4. Web-based software for officer approval.
5. Citation mailings, fine collection, and reporting services.
6. Quarterly council presentations and on-demand reports.
7. Complete audit trails and transparency.
8. Safeteen™ Driver Education Program (1% of Sitestream's proceeds allocated to city's teen driver education).

I've attached a document with more details, and I look forward to hearing from you!

Motorists can voluntarily direct a portion of their payment to one of several local charitable and community organizations. This initiative reinforces the program's primary mission of improving roadway safety and protecting residents, pedestrians, and motorists. By supporting organizations that positively impact the community, the city demonstrates that the speed enforcement program is focused on promoting safer driving behaviors and enhancing quality of life, rather than generating revenue.
