CITY CONNECT

City Advances Mosquito Control Program with New Agreement

The City of Truth or Consequences is working to protect public health through a proposed Vector Control Operations Agreement with licensed contractor, Superior Weed & Pest Control to provide mosquito control services throughout the community. This program includes routine spraying, monitoring mosquito activity, responding to resident concerns, and maintaining detailed records to ensure safe and effective operations. Residents can help support these efforts by reducing standing water around their homes; regularly emptying containers, keeping gutters clean, and refreshing pet water dishes. Simple steps like maintaining yards, repairing leaks, and using screens or repellents can significantly reduce mosquito breeding and keep neighborhoods more comfortable during the season.

Community Leaders Express Support for Davis-Fleck Pharmacy

The City Commission formally approved a letter of community support for Davis-Fleck Pharmacy during its June 10 meeting, recognizing the pharmacy's deep roots and essential role in the community. Serving residents since 1946, Davis-Fleck remains the last independent pharmacy within a 40-mile radius and continues to provide critical services to local hospices, a nursing home, and many elderly and disabled residents who rely on accessible, personalized care. In offering this letter, the City affirms the pharmacy's longstanding value to the health, well-being, and economic vitality of the community. This letter is intended solely as an expression of local support and appreciation and does not represent the City's involvement in or position on any legal proceeding.

The City also recognizes all professional businesses that work to deliver medical care and essential services to residents, acknowledging the important role they play in maintaining a healthy and resilient community.

Leave the Cone Alone - It's There for a Reason

The Street Department continues to face theft and vandalism of traffic control devices such as cones, barricades, and warning signs, which are essential for protecting workers and the public during construction, repairs, and hazardous conditions. Removing or tampering with these devices creates serious safety risks and is not only dangerous but unlawful. New Mexico law prohibits altering or removing traffic-control devices, and violations may result in misdemeanor penalties. Residents are asked to leave all devices in place and report any suspicious activity involving city property to help keep the community safe.

Foch Street Project Update: Week of June 15

Concrete pours are scheduled starting Tuesday morning in front of the Chamber of Commerce, with tie-ins near the Wildflower Boutique. Work continues Wednesday with seat walls near the Chamber and Aprendamos and ADA ramps at Lee Belle Johnson, followed by additional pours Thursday at the same location. Crews will also install remaining light and banner poles, while the landscaping contractor begins grading the basins.