Planning and Zoning Commission: Guiding Growth in T or C

The Planning and Zoning Commission is taking a fresh look at city ordinances to support smart, sustainable development in Truth or Consequences. With direction from the City Manager, the Commission is exploring updates that better serve our evolving community. Using tools like the Battershell procedure and a set of seven Findings of Fact, they carefully evaluate each proposal's impact on safety, traffic, property values, and overall public welfare. Their recommendations, grounded in thoughtful review, are shared with the City Commission through detailed reports and public minutes. Downtown Restriping Proposal: Public Hearing Recap

On Wednesday, August 27th, representatives from NMDOT held a public hearing to present a slideshow detailing proposed restriping plans for Broadway and Main in downtown Truth or Consequences. The hour-long session drew thoughtful participation from 11 community members, who asked questions and shared comments about the future of our streetscape. If you missed the presentation but want to see what was shared, including the official change document, we've created a dedicated page just for you. Visit our city website to explore the proposal and stay informed about what's ahead for our downtown corridor.

City Leaders to Present at Statewide Safety Summit

City Manager Gary Whitehead and Mayor Rolf Hechler have been invited to speak as workshop presenters at the 2025 NMDOT Transportation Safety Summit, held September 16–17 in Albuquerque. Their session, featured on the first day of the event, highlights roadway safety innovations in Truth or Consequences and contributes to the Summit's broader mission: advancing cutting-edge strategies to eliminate traffic-related fatalities across New Mexico. The Summit brings together Tribal, local, and regional agencies to foster a stronger safety culture for all roadway users.
